Dear friends,

Welcome to East-West-Dialogue with universities in the Western Balkans. The main goal of the dialogue is to underline the connection between migration and social trauma.

The program of Dialogue school includes:

1. Keynote lectures
2. Course in social trauma for advanced students from the perspective of clinical, developmental, general and social psychology, ethics and research methodology
3. Expert workshops for researchers and practitioners
4. Plenary fishbowl discussion after each series of the expert workshops
5. Student self-reflecting groups, heterogenous by nationality and study subject, to reflect on the process and to address prejudice and experience of estrangement between groups
6. The self-reflecting group for sharing the experience in the concluding large group event

Keynote lectures

The summer school will contain 9 plenary lectures, connecting migration to social trauma and providing input to the dialogue:

- Phil Langer (Berlin): Refuge Reasons. War Trauma in Syria, Afghanistan and Beyond
- Stephen Powell (Sarajevo): Trauma, Migration and Memory
- Maša Vukčević Marković (Belgrade): Research in Social Trauma among refugees (CST Methodology)
- Andreas Hamburger (Berlin) & Camellia Hancheva (Sofia): Film Lecture SADILISHTETO [THE JUDGEMENT] (BG 2015)
- Gamze Özçürümez (MERCIN): Clinical Aspects of Social Trauma in Refugees (CST Clinical)
- Saime Özçürümez (Ankara): Rights of Refugees (CST Ethics)
- Sotiris Xtouris (Lesvos): Refugee Identity (CST Social)
- Camellia Hancheva (Sofia): Developmental Aspects of Migration (CST Developmental)
- Horst Kächele (Berlin): Inner Emigration

CST (Course in Social Trauma)

The summer school embraces teaching activities on master level on social trauma and refugee issues. This element connects younger students to the proceedings of the dialogue. The teaching builds on the international master course "Social trauma", established in 2015. New elements, especially regarding the refugees, will be included in the form of plenary input lectures to each session (2h), which will be followed by a seminar (6h):

- Maida Koso & Sabina Alispahić (Sarajevo): Traumatic memory studies
- Nikola Atanassov (Sofia): Clinical psychology of social trauma and migration
- Camellia Hancheva (Sofia) & Aleksandra Hadžić (Banja Luka): Developmental psychology of social trauma and migration
- Diana Ridić & Nina Hadžiahmetović (Sarajevo): Social and cultural psychology of social trauma and migration

- Vladimir Hedrih (Nis): Methods of social trauma research
- Biljana Stanković & Jacques Petrucci: Ethics in social trauma and migration research & Legal status of traumatized refugees

Expert discussions

The working groups include refugee experts and social trauma researchers and will be assigned one relevant topic each. The discussion will be moderated by one staff member. Each workshop lasts 3 double sessions and presents its results in the form of a fishbowl to the plenum. The staff meeting in Berlin, spring 2017, will decide on the tasks, as well as the persons combined in the workshops. Every moderator will draft a report on the workshop's task and results, which will be eventually published in the dialogue dissemination, co-authored by the experts and researchers involved.

Fishbowl plenary sessions

These fishbowl presentations by the expert-researcher group shares the results of the workshop to the summer school plenary in the evening, where all students and staff can participate. Featured questions and solutions are presented by the workshop participants and discussed, including selected members of staff and students using the fishbowl method. Results of the fishbowl will be included in the workshop report.
